

AXIS - Camera Companion, ACC

AXIS Communications is the largest vendor of network video surveillance cameras in the world. The UK physical security market is currently undergoing a major shift from analogue to IP based video surveillance and AXIS is a major player in driving this shift, offering network video solutions for all markets from small systems to large enterprise installations.

AXIS Camera Companion is the market's easiest video surveillance solution for small systems up to 16 cameras. It offers future-proof IP advantages such as superb digital HDTV image quality.

The system consists of standard AXIS cameras, SD cards, software clients for PC and Smart Phones, and standard network equipment. The software has extensive language support.

Features

- + Excellent HDTV image quality
- + Easy to install and use
- + No central PC or DVR needed
- + Remote and wireless access to video
- + Viewing apps for iPhone, iPad and Android
- + Scalable and future-proof

AXIS Camera Companion (ACC), is a simple but powerful license-free video management software allowing users to view, control, playback and administer AXIS cameras on their network as well as benefiting from decentralised edge storage and complete management via their PC, Tablet computer or Smart Phone.

ACC offers the perfect upgrade path as well as being suitable for brand new sites.

AXIS[®]
COMMUNICATIONS

Europe Home Security Ltd
Unit 16 Leeway, Leeway Ind. Est.
NP19 4SL, GB

Tel: 01633 535535 Fax: 01633 535540

Email: sales@EuropeHomeSecurity.com Web: <http://www.europhomecurity.com/>